The sales team for True Religion has signed a 6.5-year, 5,000-foot lease for its office and showroom on a higher floor in its current building. The company will move up to the column-free 10th floor of 599 Broadway, which has great light and views.

Don Prete and Jamie Katcher of Cushman & Wakefield represented the fashion company known for its edgy clothes. Jay Caseley, Andrew Udis and Ian Weiss of ABS Partners represented the owner, Grassi Studio, which will upgrade the common corridor and bathrooms as part of the low-$60s per-foot lease.
